

Quantem Aviation Services Expands Freighter Ramp Handling At Orlando International Airport With Amerijet

Manchester, NH – Quantem Aviation Services (Quantem) is pleased to announce that Amerijet has appointed Quantem Aviation Services as their ramp handling provider at Orlando International Airport (MCO). The launch of the inaugural operations took place on November 20, 2018. Amerijet operates five times weekly B767F under this new five year contract.

Quantem Aviation Services has been providing freighter handling services at MCO since 1999, handling UPS, DHL, and charter activity, in addition to its growing operation at the passenger terminal at MCO. “We are delighted to have been selected by Amerijet for this important contract” said Robin Ward, Vice President, Sales and Operations for Quantem Aviation Services. She adds, “At Quantem, we build long term relationships with our business partners by offering flexibility and a team who is dedicated to meeting or exceeding our customers’ expectations. Our focus on providing quality ground handling and passenger services has made Quantem Aviation Services the vendor of choice for our customers.”
